Verse 1

All the children were laughing when I saw them at play but inside I was crying, so I just walked away I kept my choice and not my baby, now I live with the pain but there's something I'll get to tell you when we meet again

Chorus

The first time I hold you you'll see how I've cried I'll wrap my arms all around you and draw you inside To feel such forgiveness when I look in your eyes the first time I hold you will be the last time I cry

Verse 2

The days have grown longer since the day that you died
